Your friend, Ava

Thank you San Antonio Conservation Society, for letting us go to the Steve's Homestead and the Mission Concepcion. I learned that Mission Concepcion has a lot of frescos. Also that they made the paint with rocks, egg white, milk, and white wash. Steve's Homestead was very big. What I learned about Steve's Homestead was that the youngest son never got married, so he live with his mom for 40 years after his father died. I enjoyed the field trip a lot, Thank you.

Dear San Antonio Conservation Society, PS: I loved the bridge, too! :)

Thank you for letting 4th grade participate on the field trip to Mission Concepcion and Steve's Homestead.
I had some questions to ask, but some were gross so I didn't want to feel grossed out. One was, "What did they do when the bucket to go to the restroom was full?" Others I wanted to ask like, "What would happen if you ate the powder for the paint?" I enjoyed the stuff anyways and I had a lot of fun. Some people and me also got a bonus. We got to see a model of Mission Concepcion. That is why I say thank you to you.
