Active Membership

Staacke & Stevens Building

Noted architect James Riely Gordon designed the Romanesque and Queen Anne styled Stevens Building in 1891 and then completed the neighboring Renaissance Revival Staacke Building in 1894. The Conservation Society purchased both buildings in 1979 to prevent demolition, turning the Staacke Building over to local rehabbers in 1980 and the Stevens Building two years later.

Aztec Theatre

This ebullient 1926 vaudeville movie palace features a profusion of Aztec, Mayan, Mixtec, Toltec and Zapotec imagery and decoration. The Conservation Society purchased the property to save it in 1988, operating it as a movie theater before selling it in 1993 and monitoring its full restoration through a conservation easement.
